The Flags . . . from the driver's seat

Although the drivers that you will see in competition today may appear to be the most haphazard and devil-may-care competitors in the world of sports, their actions while on the track, either in practice or competition, are very strictly covered by the racing flag code, and the penalty for disobeying these flags is disqualification. Although the meanings of the vari-colored flags are well known to most racing fans, let's review them as you will see them used today by the starter. Imagine yourself the passenger in one of the competing cars as the driver explains the meanings of the various flags:

GREEN FLAG

THE GREEN FLAG . . . Here we go again. This is the starting gun, the opening whistle . . . the race is on! The green flag tells us that the race is officially started, and during the long events, keeps us informed that the track is clear ahead . . . hang on! Here comes that first turn!

RED FLAG

THE RED FLAG . . . As always, this is the danger flag. Just like the red in a stop sign, it means STOP . . . and right now! There may have been a bad spill . . . perhaps someone has been hurt, or the track is completely blocked . . . when we see this one, we get stopped as quickly as we can. The race may be restarted, but let's find out what happened first.

CROSSED FLAGS

THE CROSSED FLAGS . . . Half way! Crossed flags tell us that the race is half over. It makes no difference which ones the starter uses. He holds the cloth of the flags along the handle so we don't confuse his meaning . . . if it's a "hundred-miler," this signal means that there are only fifty to go . . . can't back off yet!

BLACK FLAG

THE BLACK FLAG . . . This is the "consultation flag," telling me to pull into the pits on the next lap . . . it is often called the disqualification flag, but it doesn't necessarily mean that I have done something wrong . . . a part may be hanging loose from my car, about to fall on the track in front of the other machines in the race. Can't ignore this signal . . . if I get it more than twice, I'll be disqualified!

BLUE FLAG WITH DIAGONAL STRIPE

THE BLUE FLAG WITH DIAGONAL STRIPE . . . This is the "passing flag." It indicates that a faster car is about to lap me . . . he has already passed me, and he now has a complete lap on me. This flag tells me to "hold my groove" or position on the track until I am passed. There he goes . . . but I'm not worried . . . he may not last long at that pace.

WHITE FLAG

THE WHITE FLAG . . . This one means simply "one more lap" . . . we've been a little too busy to count them, and this lets us know that we are starting on that last long lap. We're always glad to see this one, but the one we really wait for is:

YELLOW FLAG

THE YELLOW FLAG . . . This is the "caution flag." It tells us to slow down; to hold our position until the green flag is thrown again. The yellow flag indicates that there has been an accident on the track, or that the track has been partially blocked by a stalled car or a thrown wheel or other object. The yellow flag will remain out until the officials have determined that no one is injured seriously or that the track is not completely blocked. If there is a "safety car," we must remain in line behind it until either the red or green flag is displayed.

CHECKERED FLAG

THE CHECKERED FLAG . . . This is the big one, the one we've been waiting for . . . it means it's all over but the shouting. We all want to get under this one first, but of course we can't all do it. We keep trying, though, and I guess that's why you keep coming back. Thanks for the ride? Don't mention it . . . come again. And remember, when you drive your own car, although there are no flag signals, keep your eye on those traffic signs and obey them . . . they're the "flag signals of the highway."

"Of all the oils I might have picked—and I've tried a lot of them—," says Gurney, "I settled on the new Castrol XLR racing oil because this multigrade oil is fortified with Liquid Tungsten to give superior performance under the most severe service. I recommend Castrol XLR for any car, racing or not, if the owner really cares about his power plant."
